About

Point Advisors is a comprehensive advisory network and technology management firm serving both public agencies and private sector utilities poised to transit business with those agencies. Firms and foremost we are proactive partners with our advisory clients. Our seasoned professional staff is well-versed in public affairs and is composed of individuals that routinely hold or have held positions as Mayor, Council Member, Commissioner or City Manager. These individuals collectively offer our clients expertise in advising, development and technology.

For public agencies we provide process assistance that allows constituent business to be transacted smoothly, efficiently and effectively. This includes electronic government, print and over-the-counter process and transaction solutions, as well as advising on means to streamline government processes and procedures. We also represent governmental agencies on matters of interest they have before state legislatures and public agencies.

Private sector businesses that are interested in transacting business with public agencies can depend on Point Advisors to provide advisory, community outreach, issue management and strategic support, regulatory issue resolution, media relations and executive communication services.

Services

Private Sector

Working with private sector organizations to support and promote their endeavor in the public sector arena. Point Advisors provides the following services that are tailored to meet our clients' unique objectives:

- We assist clients with developing legislative and public policy strategy that will achieve their specific objectives while complying with the political landscape and sound public policy.
- Point Advisors also guides our private sector clients in their analysis of current public policy relative to those agencies, so they can better define their position.
- We strategize and policy position our clients on pertinent public interests before local, county and state agencies.

- Government Procurement: By guiding our clients through the procurement process, Point Advisors assists our clients in securing governmental contracts. Due to our positioning with numerous public agencies, we are able to identify contract opportunities and present them to our clients. Our staff is well versed in industry and owner business enterprise contracting agreements and can provide introductions for our clients to key business owners.

- Community Outreach: Fully integrated in local, regional and state business and political communities, we are well positioned to identify subcontractors for our clients' construction that meet the same qualifications and enjoy outstanding business reputations.

- Issue Management & Strategic Support: In cases of public concern that affect our clients, Point Advisors will develop strategies and analyze tactics designed to decisively affect public opinion - focusing on public relations matters and other key stakeholders. Strategies may either be grassroots-oriented or based in community relations or ally development.

- Regulatory Issue Resolution: Utilizing our working relationships with elected officials and their staff, along with our political knowledge and savvy, Point Advisors works to our clients' benefit to resolve problemmatic regulatory issues. These efforts may be provided in an ongoing basis, or in response to a specific short-term issue.

Public Sector

Point Advisors professional staff is highly competent in developing and implementing programs that serve our public sector clients. We apply our ten years of public service experience and comprehensive understanding of public policy to closely task our program, while working smoothly with our clients to achieve their particular goal or objective. The following Point Advisors services can be provided:

- Electronic Government Process Solutions: Building upon years of expertise in both government and technology, Point Advisors offers public agencies a unique opportunity to streamline their operations by implementing technology based systems that meet their particular needs. We assist public agencies with the design and implementation of constituent-based programs such as constituent response systems and transactional process systems such as online procurement of supplies, services and materials.

- Issue Management & Technical Support: On issues of concern affecting public agencies, Point Advisors will develop strategies and tactics designed to favorably affect opinion with the general public and with other government agencies. Focusing on key stakeholders, tactics may either be grassroots-oriented or based in community relations or ally development.
